Working together to provide the best possible outcomes for children and young people in Surrey

What is the Surrey Safeguarding Children Board (SSCB)?

The Surrey Safeguarding Children Board brings together all the main organisations who work with children, young people and their families to make sure that everyone is working in partnership to keep children and young people safe. The Board's aim is to ensure the best possible safeguarding outcomes by providing information, support, training and ensuring the child's voice is heard.

What does safeguarding mean?

It is everyone's responsibility to ensure children and young people grow up safe from harm and danger. Professionals, whose work brings them into contact with children and/or young people in whatever role or setting, have a duty to safeguard and promote their welfare. This means they have a duty to report any concern or allegations that come to their attention.

What is child abuse?

A child is abused when a parent, carer, other family member or adult deliberately causes harm, neglects or fails to protect them from harm. Harm may be physical, emotional or sexual, or may take the form of neglect. Children can also be abused by other children. It can happen at any age, within families or any other setting outside the home environment. Children can also be abused or exploited via the internet or mobile phones.
